Non-gradable exercise #2.

1. Imagine yourself at a movie. All of a sudden the screen goes white and the sound stops--the film has broken. Describe your feelings at that moment using at least 15 words.

2. You are at a movie. The logo of the distributing company has played and the list of financing groups, and the film itself is now about to begin. The rapid cutting typical of trailers stops and the movie goes into its normal pacing as the story begins. Describe your feelings at that moment using at least 15 words.

3. You are reading a detective story, and you come to the end of the book only to find that the last ten pages, containing the solution, are missing. Describe your feelings at that moment using at least 15 words.

Complete the exercise before February 16. By that date, please email your paragraphs to me at nnh@english.ufl.edu.
